

'PUSSYFOOT' TO TELL OF FIGHT TO END LIQUOR

Prohibitionist Who Has Toured World Will Tell Tri-Cities of Experiences.

"Pussyfoot" Johnson will come to Rock Island Sunday to tell of his experiences in England and India.

Augustana gymnasium has been secured for an afternoon meeting at 2:30 o'clock and arrangements are being made to accommodate a large crowd.

The title "Pussyfoot" was given the famous reformer by the friends of the liquor traffic who recognized in him one of the most formidable foes that America has produced and one who is recognized abroad as the foremost leader in an international warfare against alcoholism.

He became an international figure in 1919 when he was invited by the temperance alliance to make a speaking tour of England. His reception in some quarters was anything but agreeable in some parts.

In London he was publicly mobbed by medical students and his eye injured in such a manner that it had to be removed and a glass one substituted.

The lord chancellor of England publicly apologized for the incident.

The Beecher of Liquor.

The reformer continued his tour of England and later visited other countries particularly India. His trip to England is often compared with that of Henry Ward Beecher, who spoke against the slavery traffic during the Civil war at a time when England was on the verge of assisting the south in order to preserve the cotton mills industry of England.

The famous lecturer comes to the tri-cities under the auspices of the World League Against Alcoholism which is the international organization of the Anti-Saloon league. His subject was formerly announced as "What I See Through My Glass Eye," but that has been changed to the subject, "The New India," and this change will prove a popular one because of the recent interest in that country. The speaker will be able to give first hand views of that country on account of his recent travels in that country.

Sunday evening he will speak in the Moline high school auditorium. Moline churches are arranging to cancel the Sunday evening services so that all members may take advantage of the opportunity.

'THE NEW INDIA' TO BE HIS TOPIC

WILLIAM E. JOHNSON.

Of course you recognize this man, now. His name isn't "William E." and English-rule won't be so bad hit when he discusses "The New India" as will rum-rule. He talks at Augustana gymnasium Sunday afternoon and in the Moline high school auditorium Sunday evening.

Neal and John at home; a brother, Thomas Boyland, Rock Island, a sister, Mrs. Margaret Canaga, of Quincy, Ill., and five grandchildren. Mr. Boyland was a member of Abe Lincoln camp, M. W. A.

KENNETH CONREY ROCKETY-I HEAD

Kenneth Conrey was elected editor-in-chief of the 1922 Rocketry-I, Augustana college's annual publication, and Earl Hanson was elected business manager at a meeting of the sophomore class yesterday afternoon.

Both Conrey and Hanson are well fitted for their respective positions. Conrey worked on the M staff in the publication of the Moline high school annual in 1918, serving in the capacity of class editor and Hanson served as business manager in the publication of 1918 issue of East Des Moines high school annual.

WHITON IS FINED $10 AND COSTS ON SPEEDING CHARGE

Rudolph Whiton was fined $10 and costs, amounting to $36, by Judge F. J. Landee in county court yesterday afternoon for speeding. He was held on information filed by Fred Stokes, who charged that Whiton was driving about twenty-five miles an hour when he struck Stokes' car. Both machines were damaged.

The accident occurred March 18 on Seventh avenue between Thirtieth and Fortieth streets. The evidence showed that Whiton smashed Stokes' car in attempting to pass a taxicab.
